86th Congress Battles Over GOP Leaders, Senate Rules

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republicans today chose Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois to be their floor leader for the new session of Congress.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Battles over Republican leadership and Senate rules mixed conflict today with the traditional color of convening a new Congress.

As the 86th Congress assembled, Senate Democrats lined up for a new fight over filibusters and civil rights. Shrunk Republican minorities in both houses fought over who should lead them for the next two years.

His unanimous nomination at a Democratic caucus Tuesday assured Rep. Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) an unprecedented election to a ninth term as speaker of the House.

House Republicans ousted their leader for the last 20 years, Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, and chose instead Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana. The close 74-70 caucus vote left some hard feelings and raised questions about the course of legislation in the House.

Senators of both parties meet separately today to select their leaders. Democrat Lyndon B. Johnson faced no opposition to retaining his leadership post, but Republicans had a fight on their hands.

A dozen Republicans who class themselves as liberals sought to head off in a caucus the selection of Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois, a 1952 supporter of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, as GOP floor leader to succeed former Sen. William F. Knowland of California.

Advance Sen. Cooper

The liberals advanced Sen. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky, former ambassador and staunch Eisenhower supporter, for the post. Dirksen was credited with an edge.

The liberals were trying also to install Sen. Thomas Kuchel of California as party whip, or assistant leader. Dirksen now holds that post.

On the other side of the political fence, Democratic Leader Johnson was reported ready to take the play away from a bipartisan

Mikoyan Stops In Cleveland On 13-Day Tour

Red Deputy Premier Plans Visit Today With Cyrus Eaton

CLEVELAND, O. (AP)—Anastas I. Mikoyan, No. 2 man of the Kremlin, arrived in Cleveland today to start a 13-day coast-to-coast tour. He hustled off a plane and down a double line of police. Several hundred picketing nationality groups were blocked back by ropes.

Mikoyan tipped his hat as he got off a Capital Airlines plane about five minutes after it arrived at 10:10 a.m. Then he hurried inside the concourse gates to hold a brief news conference before leaving the airport.

Cyrus Eaton, Cleveland industrialist, and his wife greeted Mikoyan, Mrs. Eaton speaking in Russian.

Mikoyan told her it was very good to speak Russian with her, and solicitously advised the 75-year-old Eaton, who will be his host here, that he should wear a hat on his white-haired head, lest he catch cold.

Several hundred Iron Curtain country nationality groups had gathered at the airport. They carried such signs as "Blackmailers," "Mikoyan, your hands are red with Russian blood."

During the flight he sat beside Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov, who read him news from New York and Washington newspapers.

A dimpled airline stewardess, Miss Rita Sylvester, 23, of West Warwick, R. I., served the 63-year-old Mikoyan a breakfast of scrambled eggs and bacon, and he told her it was very good.

Mikoyan inspected the cockpit of the Vickers Viscount and talked with the pilot, George Donahoe, 24, of Falls Church, Va., a 13-year airline veteran; and copilot Bill Patchen of Arlington Va.

He told them one of his brothers was an airplane engineer. That was Artem Mikoyan, codesigner of the MIG series of fighters. He said also that he had one pilot-son killed in the war and another son who is still a pilot.

After an overnight stay here as the guest of millionaire Eaton, Mikoyan will go on to Detroit and the West Coast before returning to Washington Jan. 19 for talks with President Eisenhower.

In the meantime, Secretary of State Dulles and other top American officials collected for close scrutiny all the demands, promises, assurances and hints the old Bolshevik scattered about the nation's capital.

It was their impression that Mikoyan was here, not on vacation, as he insists, but to plug the line: Make me an offer.

Although he left a lot of things fuzzy, they said, he so far has come up with no genuine Soviet concession on the tension-packed Berlin situation. Rather, any change appeared to be one of tone instead of substance, leaving the door open to possible concessions only after some sort of U.S. counter-proposal.

After conferring for more than two hours with Vice President Nixon.

3.5-Mill Tax Would Yield $32,000

Lisbon School Board To Request New Levy

LISBON — The Village School Board, meeting Tuesday night in the high school, voted to place an additional 3.5-mill levy on the ballots of the May primary election.

The additional 3.5-mill levy will increase the total tax rate to 16 mills for the next three years.

The new levy would yield an additional $32,000 a year, board members said.

The money would be used to pay the wages of additional teachers, two new bus drivers, a custodian and to meet other increased operating costs, School Supt. Loren D. Early said.

The board re-elected Dr. Wade Bacon as president.

Edwin Kauffman was re-elected vice president, and Henry T. Davies was given another four-year contract as clerk.

Fred Rose, William Haefly and William Morgan Jr. are the other members of the board.

In other business the board authorized a temporary appropriation of $125,100 for the first four months of 1959. Estimated receipts for this period was set at $130,000.

A lengthy discussion was held on whether to have the school property appraised by an appraising company, but no action was taken.

Supt. Early was authorized to seek bids for the purchase of blinds for four rooms in Lincoln School.

The board voted to drop vocational agriculture as a subject next year in Lisbon schools because of lack of interest among students. Only 13 boys replied in questionnaire that they wanted to take the subject next year, and the state requires a minimum of 18 students before it will subsidize the course.

The Lisbon board will meet with East Palestine, Leetonia and Columbiana boards at Columbiana on Feb. 25, at 6:30 p.m.

'58 Fire Losses Only $8,110

Salem's fire losses in 1958 amounted to only $8,110.91, the lowest 12-month figure since 1928. Fire Chief Clarence W. Wright's yearly report shows.

The report, released today, places last year's cumulative losses at $5,204.09 under the $13,315 loss recorded the previous year.

Fire damages in 1958 were $4,761.50 to buildings and $3,349.41 to contents.

The biggest loss occurred March 10 when $3,500 in damages was caused by a fire at the Joseph LaMonica residence at 214 W. Wilson St.

Firemen answered 194 calls last year, of which 145 were city calls and 49, outside alarms.

Perry Twp. calls totaled 43; Goshen Twp., three; and Green, Salem and Butler Twp., one each.

Fire losses since 1951 when Wright became chief follow: 1951 — $35,800; 1952 — $11,170; 1953 — $12,822; 1954 — $48,484; 1955 — $10,652; 1956 — $15,581; 1957 — $13,315; and 1958 — $8,110.91.

Quemoy Pounded By Heavy Barrage

TAIPEI (APA) — The Chinese Communists pounded the Quemoy Islands today with their heaviest fire in two months.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry reported more than 12,000 Red shells landed on the offshore islands between 2 and 4 p.m. and said the bombardment was continuing without a letup in intensity.

The Ministry said the Nationalist guns fire back vigorously, but the volume of counterfire was not announced.

It was the heaviest Communist firing since Nov. 3 when 39,162 shells were fired during an 18-hour period. And the rate of fire this afternoon virtually equaled the hardest shelling on Nov. 3, some 36,000 shells in 6 hours.

The heavy Communist bombardment was expected. The Reds had charged the Nationalists with shelling a commune nursery on the mainland Saturday and threatened a severe attack in reprisal. The Nationalists denounced the charge as a barefaced lie and said the Communists had made it as a pretext for resuming intensive shelling of Quemoy.

Claims Regular Patrolmen Can Perform Duties

Three-Month Fund Measure Passed; OK Light Pole Pact

Abolishment of the police department's two "meter maids" was recommended to City Council in a letter from Police Chief Martin Lutsch at Council's first meeting of the new year Tuesday evening in City Hall.

Chief Lutsch explained that he feels the duties of the women "police" can be taken over by a regular patrolman and combined with their regular duties.

Council President Curtis Vaughan referred Lutsch's letter to the safety committee for study.

Council first authorized the "meter maids" July 3, 1957.

The duties of the meter maids, Mrs. Gordon Edwards and Mrs. William Ritchie, have been to issue tickets for parking violations as well as collect money from the parking meters and keep them in repair.

The women assumed their duties in November of 1957 after a debate in Council over the salary they were to receive.

They are paid $200 for their first year on the job, $225 the second and $300 the third and thereafter, according to the ordinance.

City Council last night approved the signing of a pole agreement between the city and the Ohio Edison Company.

Under the agreement Ohio Edison will pay for the use of city poles and the city will pay for the use of Ohio Edison poles at a fixed fee of $3 per pole annually.

The pole agreement marks the end of a long discussion between the city and Ohio Edison which started in February of 1958 when Ohio Edison wished to purchase the city's entire street lighting system.

Fund Measure Passed

Council also approved a temporary appropriation for the city operations for the first three months of 1959, and the annual appropriation.

6 Tennessee Men Killed In Ohio Mishap

KENTON, Ohio (AP)—Six Tennessee men were killed early today when their automobile collided head-on with a gasoline tanker truck on U.S. 68, about two miles north of here.

The Highway Patrol and funeral homes where the bodies were taken said the victims had been identified tentatively as residents of Cleveland, Tenn., and vicinity.

The tentative identifications were listed as:

Floyd Clark, 22; Herbert Goings, 41; Richard Kelly, 28; Horace Boyd, 24; Robert D. Lee, 31, and John B. Gibson, 32.

The Highway Patrol identified the driver of the tanker as Albert Fohl, 24, of Tiffin, Ohio. He was taken to San Antonio Hospital here and admitted for treatment of lacerations on the hands, knees and face.

Patrolmen quoted him as saying that all he could remember of the accident was seeing bright lights.

The truck belonged to the Anso Gasoline Co. It was traveling south. The automobile was northbound, U.S. 68, a two-lane highway, was clear and weather conditions were reported good.

Gasoline was spilled around the scene of the crash, but there was no fire. However, firemen stood by while wreckers were called to clear the highway.

All of the victims apparently died instantly.

The funeral homes here are endeavoring to contact relatives of the men.

The crash was the second serious multiple death head-on crash in Ohio in recent months. Last November, seven persons were killed on the Ohio Turnpike when one automobile somehow got on the wrong side of the divided toll road.

Joseph Fester Named Safety Director of City

Joseph R. Fester, 45, an agent of the Prudential Insurance Co., has been named to the post of safety director by Mayor Harold D. Smith.

He will assume his duties Jan. 15, when the resignation of Dr. Richard McConnor, present safety director, becomes effective.

Fester, his wife, Mary, and their four children reside at 364 E. 5th St.

A veteran of World War II, Mr. Fester was born in Pittsburgh and was graduated from Warren G. Harding High School at Warren.

He formerly worked for the Warren Transportation Co. and the Thomas Strip Steel Co. in Warren. He is active in PTA, First Methodist Church, the Masonic Lodge, and the Country Club.

Dr. McConnor submitted his resignation recently because he was too busy in his private practice to continue the city job. Former Mayor Crammer appointed him safety director about four

Salk Vaccine Eliminates One Type of Polio

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Salk antipolio vaccine has eliminated completely one of the three types of polio virus among the vaccinated persons according to Dr. Jonas Salk, the University of Pittsburgh physician-scientist who developed the vaccine.

The three types are known as I, II and III. In the before-vaccine days, Type I appeared on an average of eight times in 10 cases; types II and III only once each in 10. Type II has been eliminated among those vaccinated, he said.

Dr. Salk and other authorities studying degrees of immunity given by his vaccine agree it has reduced chances of developing either type I or III polio and apparently even has resulted in a reduction in type II among the unvaccinated.

Why the latter is true Dr. Salk is uncertain, but he suggests that with fewer persons to spread type II, fewer are likely to get it.

Why his vaccine is not more potent against I and III Dr. Salk said he is uncertain.

Dr. Hoperich Named To Board of Health

13 Aliens Report Addresses Here

Thirteen aliens living in Salem have filed their addresses at the post office, Postmaster O. C. Hoover reported today.

He added he has issued a large number of blanks which haven't yet been returned.

John Lehmann, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, stated that although the program has been underway only six days, the number reporting generally is well ahead of the number reporting in the same period last year.

Aliens have until the end of January to submit their report of address to the government. Forms for the purpose may be obtained at any post office or any office of the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

All aliens, with few exceptions, are required to report. Those excused from this requirement include diplomats, persons accredited to certain international organizations and persons who were admitted temporarily as agricultural workers.

Aliens who are minors must also report, but the parent or legal guardian should submit the report for an alien child under 14 years of age.

Batista Officials Are Weeded Out

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Cuba's provisional government polished up a new interim constitution today as the work of weeding out remnants of Fulgencio Batista's dictatorship went forward.

The Cabinet met far into the night working on a new fundamental law to replace the constitution of 1940 until the holding of free elections.

It was not immediately learned how the charter would differ from the old one, which was adopted during Batista's first period of power. Presumably the interim constitution will be replaced after a new Congress is elected.

INCOME TAX PRIMER:

There Are 3 Classes of Exemptions

By RICHARD A. MULLENS
(Second of 12 Chapters)
What part of the tax return gives taxpayers the most trouble? Studies by the Internal Revenue Service indicate that taxpayers have more problems and make more mistakes in claiming exemptions than with any other portion of the return.

Perhaps one of the reasons for this is that every taxpayer, regardless of the amount of his income or the tax form used, is entitled to claim at least one exemption and most taxpayers are entitled to claim more.

THERE ARE THREE classes of exemptions, each with its own special rules.

These are set out on pages 4 and 5 of the official instructions for Form 1040 and a condensed version is printed in the instructions for Form 1040A.

Many taxpayers, however, want additional information on exemptions. Here it is.

Exemptions for You and Your Wife

Suppose your wife worked for a short time in 1958 and earned $500, from which $50 tax was withheld. She could file a separate return and get back the $50 tax that had been withheld, but, if she did, you could not file a joint return with her nor could you claim her as an exemption on your separate return.

To save taxes, you should file a joint return. Her income has to be included with yours, but you get a $600 exemption for her (more if she is 65 or blind) so it's cheaper than filing separate returns.

Don't overlook the extra exemption granted taxpayers who are 65 or over. If your 65th birthday was on or before Jan. 1, 1959, you are entitled to the old-age exemption for all of 1958.

Exemptions for Your Children

You are entitled to one exemption for each child (including a step-

Check what you think is the correct answer and then compare with the answer chart below.

1. Your 15-year-old son worked in a grocery store during the summer of 1958. He earned $375 but had $60 of this amount withheld for Federal income tax. You supported him during 1958. Is he required to file a tax return?

() A. Yes.
() B. No, but if he does file a return to get back the $60 tax withheld, you cannot claim him as an exemption.

() C. No, but he should file a return to get back the $60 tax withheld and you can still claim him as an exemption.

2. Your wife had her 65th birthday on Jan. 1, 1958. What year is she first entitled to an extra exemption for being 65?

() A. 1958.
() B. 1959.

3. Your 20-year-old daughter () A. She must not have been married in 1958.
() B. She must have been a student in each of five calendar months during 1958.
() C. She must have learned how to cook during 1958.

child, or legally adopted child), if during 1958 that child:

1. Received less than $600 gross income. However, this limitation does not apply if your child was under 19 or a student. In either of these cases, it doesn't matter how much income the child had. He or she can be claimed as your exemption if the following three tests are met.

2. Received more than half of his or her support from you (or from ed by and living with a United States citizen abroad.

AN ADOPTED CHILD must be legally adopted (in other words, a court decree must be entered) in order to count as your child for exemption purposes.

Some states provide for an inter-lucutory adoption decree, which is really a temporary court decree pending a subsequent final decree. In such a case, the child is considered legally adopted when the inter-lucutory decree is entered.

Suppose your 20-year-old son attended college last year and earned $700 during the summer vacation. You can still claim him as an exemption if you furnished over half his support and he met the third and fourth conditions above. He must, however, file his own return, since his income was over $600.

Satellite on Pad On West Coast

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A 1,300-pound satellite — the first ever to be launched on the West Coast — is on its pad at Vandenberg Air Force Base.

Some time within the next few days, Project Discoverer will be under way, headed for a Pole-to-Pole orbit.

A dozen or more Discoverer satellites will be launched from the California coast this year, each of them carrying hundreds of pounds of instruments to tell man what he will face when he ventures into space. Some also will carry mice and, later, monkeys.

The Discoverer satellites will be pointed southward to orbit around the earth from Pole to Pole. The first few are expected to stay aloft for only a matter of hours before they plummet back to burn up in the earth's atmosphere.

Before they do, however, they will eject a capsule containing instruments — and any animal passengers — which can be recovered by Air Force and Navy search crews.

Vandenberg Air Force Base, 170 miles north of Los Angeles, fired a Thor as a training shot last Dec. 16 to test launching and tracking facilities.

Bonnie Lee Leonard

One of the district's young dancing stars, Bonnie Lee Leonard, 18, has just signed to appear in the year's top musical production, "Music Man" in New York.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cassidy, and her sisters, Donna and Joan, have just returned from New York, where they saw Bonnie make her successful Broadway debut.

One thousand dancers were auditioned for this dance part in "Music Man," which stars Robert Preston and Barbara Cook.

Bonnie started her dancing career in Alliance, when she was four years old, performing at the Columbia Theatre in Bill Cassidy's dance recital.

Since then she has climbed the ladder as a performer, appearing in numerous shows throughout the district and from coast to coast. She made her first television appearance in 1947 on a closed-circuit program in Cleveland.

She also made three appearances on the Kate Smith Show, and she appeared once with Patti Page and once with the Paul Whiteman show. She danced on the Jackie Gleason Show with the famous June Taylor Dancers.

Scientists Probing Reasons For Severe Climate Changes

NEW YORK (AP) — The trouble with our weather could be that it behaves too much like people. Little things often make humans blow their stacks.

Rockefeller Warns Of Tax Increases

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller launched his administration today by telling New Yorkers they must pay millions more in state taxes.

The new Republican governor declared in his first annual message to the Legislature that the state's fiscal affairs had fallen into "a serious condition of deterioration" under Democrat Averell Harriman.

"Much as we deplore the facts," he said, "conditions require additional tax revenues now."

Rockefeller said he was struggling with a deficit of "at least 230 million dollars" in the new budget.

He said he would spell out his tax proposals in the budget message, which he must submit to the GOP-controlled Senate and Assembly by Feb. 1.

The governor's 7,000-word message hewed strictly to state problems, unlike his inaugural message, which carried strong international overtones and prompted new speculation on Rockefeller's White House potential.

EAST PALESTINE — Frank W. Springer was re-elected president of the Board of Education at its meeting Monday night at the Senior High School.

The board voted to employ Mrs. Eldon Groves of Salem as a substitute home economics teacher, succeeding Mrs. Patricia Fisher of Columbiana who was granted a leave of absence.

Mrs. Groves will teach during the remainder of this month, when she will be replaced by Miss Lisa Baumgardner, a native of Hubbard who will graduate soon from Bowling Green University, School Supt. T. R. Hersh reports.

After Plane Ran Into Hail Storm

The battered nose of an Air Force B-52 bomber, photo at right, bears witness to the savagery of a storm encountered 8,000 feet over Carswell Air Force Base in New Mexico. The plane, doing about 400 m.p.h., struck a hail pocket undetectable on weather radar. For 47 seconds hailstones the size of baseballs struck the J-57 jet engines, two shown, photo below. The engines also "digested" large pieces of metal torn from the bomber. They still managed to perform satisfactorily. The pilot flew on for 2½ hours, getting back to the base where repairs will make the plane serviceable once again.

Scholarship Tests Set At Lisbon High School

LISBON — General scholarship tests for high school seniors will be given Saturday morning at David Anderson high school. Tests will begin at 8:30 a.m. according to Supt. James L. McBride, county school superintendent.

The tests last three hours and cover math, English, history, science and reading. Only seniors in the upper 40 per cent of their class will be permitted to take the examination.

Approximately 93 seniors have signed up to take the tests and those finishing in the upper ten per cent have a good chance to receive a scholarship. Students from Lisbon, Salineville, Fairfield-Waterford, United Local, Beaver Local and Leetonia will take the test at Lisbon. Lisbon has the largest group with 30.

Any school having over 25 seniors taking the exam may give the examination at their school, if they desire, McBride said.

Three agricultural examinations will also be given in the Lisbon school at the same time, to seniors from Lisbon, United and Leetonia schools.

Did Alabama Find a Secret Door?

When the New York Times was permitted, with other New York City papers, to resume publication after a long shutdown by one of its unions, Arthur Krock reported from its Washington bureau that the Constitutional crisis over racial segregation in schools apparently had passed.

This observation by one of the capital's careful reporters is based on a Supreme Court affirmation of a three-judge Federal Court decision sustaining the Alabama Pupil Placement Law.

This law, says Mr. Krock, shows Southern states how to deal with their problem of school segregation without going counter to either the spirit or the letter of equal rights laws.

As long as the law is not used to enforce racial segregation, which has been ruled unconstitutional, the U.S. Supreme Court agrees with the lower court that it "furnishes legal machinery for an orderly administration of public schools in a constitutional manner by the admission of qualified pupils upon a basis of individual merit without regard to their race or color."

In other words, the illegal thing is to separate pupils in a public school upon a basis of race and color. It is not illegal to separate pupils in a public school upon a basis of their individual merit.

In Washington, where the legalists who ponder such things are concentrated, this is being looked upon as a secret door out of a constitutional dilemma. It would give Southern states a potential means of escaping from the things they fear in desegregation without running into trouble with the Department of Justice.

It would permit, among other things, the separation of students by sex, thereby easing Southern fears about miscegenation. Students could be separated according to capability, preparation, performance — any way except race and color.

There would be tests made in the courts of all forms of separation to determine whether they were really made on a basis of race and color and therefore unconstitutional. But as long as they had been made on the basis stated, there would be no evidence of racial discrimination.

There has been no question raised — ever — of the right of local school boards, for example, to assign pupils for educational purposes. The question that has plagued the country and created a deadlock with federal authority in part of the South is whether pupils could be separated from one another on a basis of race and color.

That is clearly unconstitutional. Pupil placement on other grounds is clearly constitutional, on the other hand.

The Supreme Court action on Nov. 24 was largely overlooked at the time because it was Thanksgiving week, there had been no discussion in advance and the order sustaining the lower court was unsigned. As Mr. Krock has indicated from his vantage point in Washington, the desegregation fight may be over.

They May Not Love Each Other

By this time next year, according to diplomatic prospects, the remarriage of the two Germans either will have been negotiated by their guardians, or the guardians will have gone to war over the deadlock.

It is a bone-chilling prospect the diplomats have painted — and among those most horrified by it are many citizens of West Germany and East Germany who do not want either end of the choice.

Only recently has it crossed the minds of their guardians that reunification of Germany, which the guardians have held out as the rosier of all possible hopes, may have no appeal for West Germans and East Germans.

Having learned how to live separately, thanks to the guardians who would not let them live together, they may have learned to like the idea more than the thought of going through the upheaval that would be necessary if they were to be reunited.

If it were the purpose of the Soviet Union's recent policy to reveal that East Germany could not be reunited with West Germany, it could not have chosen a more direct path to a showdown than by approaching a clash with the United States, Great Britain and France over the status of Berlin.

This will force a general review of the status of Germany, itself. The review will be meaningless without discussion of German reunification. And the question of reunification will raise the vital question of opinion among the Germans, themselves.

It may be like one of those marriages arranged by parents, in which everybody has been consulted but the potential bride and groom who, in the showdown, refuse to have anything to do with each other. West Germany may not want to give up what it has acquired since World War II to share its lot with East Germany. And the further fact is that the Germans who have stayed in East Germany may show favor for the Communists who have had 12 years to teach them the obedience expected of citizens in a totalitarian state.

Once Over

"New Soviet criminal code, Russia says, puts burden of proof on the state, not the prisoner, and no longer regards a confession as sufficient." — News item.

Bailiff: Order in the court; under the 1959 rules!

Judge: Let us proceed swiftly under the new regulations which have so suddenly interrupted our usual procedures. I wish to make clear to the prisoner that if he winds up in Siberia he will have the satisfaction of knowing it was less sudden.

Prosecutor: This is the case of Boris Borosonov charged with talking back to a Russian policeman and expressing views criticizing the state. Do you understand the charges?

Prisoner: No, but I appreciate the fact it doesn't make much difference.

Judge: Do you plead guilty or not?

Prisoner: You mean I have a CHOICE!?

Prosecutor: Plea and don't be insolent.

Prisoner: I plead not guilty if the new rules permit it, and ask that the rules committee refrain from changing the rules during my trial.

Judge: This prisoner is exhausting my patience. He seems to want assurance of fair play.

Prisoner: I merely wanted to be sure where I am.

Judge: All I can be sure of is where you are going.

Prisoner: Maybe I had better read a prepared complete confession.

Prosecutor: Don't be absurd. Under the new code you can be convicted without a confession.

Prisoner: My lawyer thought it might help in case the court lacked evidence. It could show my willingness to make things easier for you.

Judge: Proceed with the trial of this OPTIMIST.

(The trial continues and concludes.)

Senate Rules Changes

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new Senate explodes Wednesday in a fight over changing its rules. It may last weeks and much of it will sound dull. But it's far-reaching. This is an ABC on it.

A bloc of northern Democrats and Republicans wants to change Senate Rule No. 22, which makes it so hard to smash a filibuster that none has been broken in 31 years.

The Senate prides itself on its rule of practically unlimited debate. But debate can have two purposes: To discuss an issue fully before a vote on it or to prevent a vote altogether. The latter is the filibuster.

The 98 senators will do most of their business — passing bills — by just a simple majority of those present on the floor at voting time. A full majority, harder to get, would be 50 of the 98.

But under Rule No. 22, shutting off a filibuster against a measure — to let the Senate by a simple majority vote decide its fate — requires a two-thirds vote of all the senators, or 66 of the 98.

Getting such a two-thirds vote is almost impossible, except in some national emergency. The reason: So many senators, not just southern Democrats, favor the principle of unlimited debate.

It isn't hard for each to foresee the time when he, too, may want to use it to prevent passage of legislation he intensely opposes.

The filibuster has been employed against various proposals in the Senate's long history. In recent years southerners particularly have used it, and successfully, to prevent passage of civil rights bills.

The northerners, favoring new civil rights legislation, protest that Rule No. 22 permits a minority in the Senate, where southerners are in a minority, to thwart a majority.

Southerners argue that a minority under Rule No. 22 can protect itself against the unwelcome will of a Senate majority.

But why all the fuss about changing Rule No. 22? Since the Senate adopted this rule itself, can't it change it easily? Not easily. Here's why:

No time limit of any kind can be put on a filibuster against a proposal to change the rule.

This raises such an obstacle to changing rules once the Senate is in business that the northerners have settled on another plan. It failed in 1953 and again in 1957 and may not work this time.

Senators are elected for six years. Although every two years the seats of one-third of them are at stake in the elections, the other two-thirds are still in the Senate serving out their unexpired terms.

Because of this, opponents of any change in Rule No. 22 argue that even when there is a new session of Congress, as there is this year, it does not mean a new Senate. They say:

The Senate is never a new but a continuing body. So in each new session of Congress the Senate continues to have the same rules under which it did business in the preceding Congress.

The northerners will argue Wednesday, as before, that each new session of Congress means a brand new Senate and as such the new Senate does not have to inherit rules but should adopt its own.

So they will ask Wednesday, before the Senate is fully in business, that it adopt new rules. If they can win that point, they will ask that Rule No. 22 be changed before it's adopted. They reason:

If the Senate agrees that the old rules don't apply until they are freshly adopted, then Rule No. 22, with its protection for a filibuster against a rule change, doesn't apply, doesn't exist, and can't work.

In short, the northerners argue: Until new rules are adopted, the Senate will not be operating under Rule No. 22 or any other previous rule but only under parliamentary law.

This will lead to argument on whether parliamentary law, where rules are concerned, requires a simple majority or two-thirds vote. And no doubt there'll be a filibuster of some kind.

All this should cause a parliamentary snafu on a grand scale.

Shades of McCarthy

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Liberals Say Senate Not 'Continuing Body'

Shades of Joe McCarthy! Strange as it may seem, the so-called "liberals" in the Senate of both parties — who voted on one count to censure the Wisconsin senator in 1954 for something that happened in his previous term in the Senate — are adopting this week the very same argument he made, namely, that the Senate is not a "continuing body."

Expediency is the reason. The Northern senators who want to change the rules to curtail filibusters — aimed principally at civil rights legislation — do not have enough strength to muster a two-thirds vote as the present rules require. They seek the right, therefore, to gag the Senate by means of a 5 per cent majority vote. The Southern senators who voted against Sen. McCarthy are consistent today, for they hold that the Senate is a "continuing body" and its rules can be changed only by a two-thirds vote.

Logically the "liberals," on the other hand, in their insistence that the Senate is not a "continuing body," ought to adopt a motion to expunge from the records of the Senate their vote, which said that Sen. McCarthy should be "censured" for refusing to testify before a Senate committee during his previous term of office.

ACTUALLY, he had been elected by the people of Wisconsin after those charges were fully aired, and, when he took his oath as a senator in January, 1953, for a new term, he challenged the Senate to ask him to stand aside while it investigated any charges.

This the Senate did not do but two years later, when there was an acrimonious fight against the Wisconsin senator on other grounds, the failure to testify in 1952 was trumped up as an excuse to "censure" him.

Another Wisconsin senator, the elder La Follette, once had also refused to testify before a Senate committee but no action was taken against him, although he openly challenged the Senate to do so.

There was another "count" on which the Senate voted against Sen. McCarthy and this did occur within the term that began in 1953.

It concerned some uncompromising remarks he made about his fellow senators, but, oddly enough, this was the first time the Senate ever voted "censure" for comments by one senator about another. This had always been regarded as the right of free speech. It is interesting to reread today the arguments made in the 1954 anti-McCarthy debate to the effect that the Senate is a "continuing body" and hence can look back into the record and punish a senator.

There was a modicum of truth in that argument in the sense that, under its rules, the Senate can always refuse to admit anyone, no matter if he is legally elected, and simply bar him on personal grounds even unrelated to his conduct in office. But such a challenge under the rules must be made before he takes the oath of office for a particular term.

It is, true, of course, that the Senate may at any time expel a member for any reason but this must be by a two-thirds vote. It was well known at the time that there were not two-thirds of the Senate who would have voted to expel the Wisconsin senator, so his opponents resorted to the "censure" tactics.

LIKEWISE, in examining the strategy used by the school of thought which believes the "end justifies the means," it is worth noting that the effort being made this week to curtail filibusters is based on the knowledge that a majority of the Senate would vote to limit debate but two-thirds might not.

The "liberals" themselves have often used the filibuster weapon to kill legislation which they knew a 51 per cent majority would adopt if a vote were permitted.

Is the Senate a "continuing body"? Unlike the House or Representatives, all of whose members go out of office every two years, only one-third of the Senators come up for election every two years.

This means that two-thirds of the Senate are "holdovers" after every election. So far as they are concerned, the Senate is realistically a "continuing body" but the newcomers argue they should have a chance to say what the rules should be.

The opponents are willing to grant them that right, but only under the existing rules requiring a two-thirds vote before any change becomes valid. Certainly the previous rules remain in effect until new ones are formally adopted. There is talk about various compromise proposals, but in the end the sanction of a filibuster will depend on how two-thirds of the Senate feel about a pending issue, or, rather, on how a little more than a third — a minority — may feel about checking the occasional intolerance of the majority.

Career Survivor

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"For years I felt God went down with the Titanic," said the tiny old lady. "It took a great many years for me to get my faith back."

Mrs. Henry B. Harris shares today a feeling held by many that the sinking of the "unsinkable ship" after crashing into an iceberg in 1912 spelled the end of an age of security the world has never known since.

"That way of life seems gone forever," she said.

She was one of the 705 saved when the great ship went down. Her husband of 10 years, a famous New York theatrical producer, was among the 1502 lost.

Mrs. Harris, now in her 70s, uses a crutch because of an ailing hip. Looking a bit like a crippled elderly thrush, she was the life of the party at a recent reunion of a dozen or so of the 83 Titanic survivors. Afterward she found herself unable to watch the premiere of a British-made film based on the disaster.

Mrs. Harris had broken her elbow when she slipped and fell on the ship's stairway a few hours before the fatal collision. She was playing cards with her husband in their suite when the ship struck the iceberg at 11:40 p.m. April 14.

"There was no shock or jar," she recalled. "I simply noticed the iceberg at 11:40 p.m. April 14."

"There was no shock or jar," she recalled. "I simply noticed that my clothing, which had been swinging on hangers a moment before, suddenly stopped swinging."

"When we went up on deck later and saw people getting into the lifeboats, we thought they were sissies. There was no feeling of terror—then."

"But as time passed we realized we were in real danger. My husband begged and pleaded with me to go, but I didn't want to leave him, even though I felt everyone would be saved."

Her husband finally put her in the last seat in the last collapsible boat, tossed her a blanket, stepped back—and was lost in a sea of faces.

Mrs. Harris, left a millionaire, became America's first theatrical producer, but lost her wealth during the depression. Something of a career survivor, in the nearly 47 years since the Titanic sinking Mrs. Harris has also weathered two world wars, hard times, and three moe matings.

A lady of indomitable spirit, she observed philosophically:

"If I had my life to live over,

A Few Improvements

By TRUMAN TWILL

People don't make New Year resolutions the way they used to. I know of no one who has been going about with a long face because he couldn't carry out a resolution to quit smoking, drinking, cursing, dawdling or doodling.

Everybody now keeps on doing whatever he was doing before, with no misgivings and no upsurings of high purpose and moral rehabilitation.

But, oddly enough, I have had no trouble finding a hardy specimen who will quit trying to make himself agreeable in areas and circumstances where being agreeable is difficult.

I know this one fellow who has made a list of publicity chisellers he despises, including several ladies with overdeveloped glands and several gentlemen who like to get around and have the world know all about it.

This fellow insists he will read no newspaper or magazine that falls for this gamey variety of tripe and will sever the umbilical cord of any gawk box on which his pet peves are mentioned or appear.

I know a fellow who, burdened by his reputation for being a good listener, has decided that in 1959 he will live this down if it means cultivating the art of falling asleep without toppling out of his chair.

He must have wasted two full weeks of his life last year — that would be 336 hours — listening to people talk about things that did not interest him and he thinks life is too short for that sort of thing. He points out in this connection that 3366 hours is the equivalent of eight and half 40-hour weeks in which he could have been doing something remunerative, like going postal to postal.

I know a moderate smoker who says that from now on whenever a room gets so blue he cannot see across it he will step to the telephone and summon the fire department, on the sound supposition that where there is that much smoke there must be fire.

He explains he also intends to carry a plug of chewing tobacco with him and when other people start to live it up big with the weed they way he will ask for a dish with elevated sides to contain the backlash and will chew and spit, because that is his way of living it up big.

Production, Profits Headed Up, but No Big Boom Is Forecast

What's Ahead for Business In '59

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Staff Correspondent
(First of Three Dispatches)

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Four clouds lie ahead on the 1959 business horizon:

There may be serious industry-wide strikes after mid-year as unions press for stiff wage increases.

John Q. Consumer is going to buy — but with caution. There are some who feel some industry is pricing itself out of the market.

Businessmen are going to be slow about expanding plant capacity on the scale of 1956 and 1957.

Despite their optimistic talk, businessmen generally are moving ahead with caution in making 1959 plans. There is no program in industry for a booming expansion of plants and capacity.

U.S. exporters in 1959 will run into more and more competition in foreign markets. Overseas plants have been modernizing their machinery, lowering costs.

European currency moves will tend to make it harder to sell high-cost American products abroad.

As a net result, the new boom will slow down in 1959, ease away from the sharp upturn of the last half of 1958.

Nevertheless, 1959 should be a good year for businessmen. Production will rise steadily. Profits will be up. Taxes should hold at their present levels with few increases.

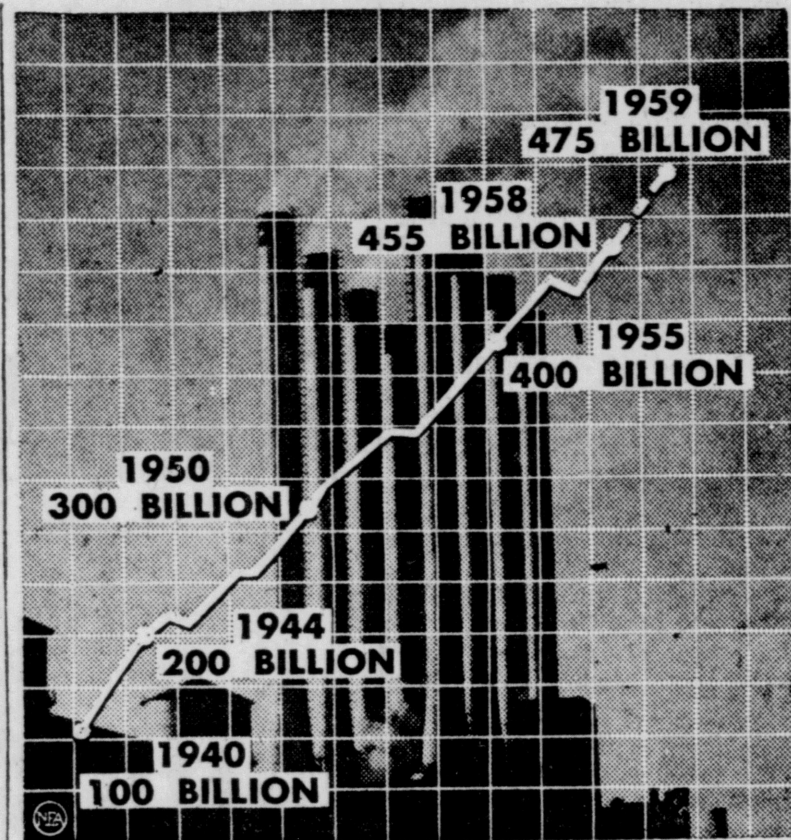

BUT THE BIG BOOM — if it shows up — is more likely in 1960 than in 1959.

These are conclusions drawn from a NEA Service survey of top U.S. Government and private economists on the 1959 outlook.

Despite talk these days from Detroit of selling six million U.S. automobiles in 1959, economists here have serious doubts sales will push much over 5.4 million. A continued boom for small U.S. and foreign cars is predicted.

The construction industry should have a good year, with contracts up $4 million, thanks to the wholesale voting of school, hospital and public utility bonds, by local county and city voters. And thanks, too, to the highway boom. Sales of durable goods — washing machines, driers, and other household equipment — should do well in 1959.

THE AIRLINE - MISSILE INDUS-

TOWARD THE $500 BILLION ECONOMY — After a dip in 1957 and early 1958, the gross national product (total of all goods and services produced) resumed its steady climb, and is expected to hit the $475 billion rate in 1959.

try will step up slightly — maybe half a billion dollars — spurred by government spending and by the airline switch to jets.

Government and industry orders should strengthen the electronics business. Steel production may grow from 85 million to 110 million tons. But the industry could be hit hard by a strike this summer when wage contracts run out.

The home building industry apparently is in for but little more business than in 1958. And even these hopes may be dampened by a growing shortage of mortgage money. Congress may step in here with aid.

Retail sales should be up around five per cent. There are signs the consumer is ready to buy — selectively and cautiously. If he doesn't buy one thing, he may buy another.

What isn't certain is whether he's as ready to go into debt to buy what he wants as he was in 1956 and 1957.

CHEMICAL SALES should rise — maybe six per cent — but increasing competition and higher costs may plague the industry. The petroleum people should have a good year, though there are some indications of higher gasoline taxes, which may discourage sales. Tool and die industry men expect an increase of 15 per cent in their shipments. Machinery and metal producers should do well.

Farm income will be the major soft spot — down perhaps five to eight per cent in 1959.

But overall, the gross national product, the total of goods and services produced in the United States, should rise from a late 1958 rate of $455 billion a year to an annual rate of $475 billion to $480 billion by the end of 1959. (Next: The Cost of Living In '59)

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

We may have to write the crime story on asbestos in 1959 — it will be that scorching. Every agency of the government has been moved into position for an assault on the mobsters' millionaire row.

This is a new kind of fight on the gentlemen crooks — the mobsters who left their arrest records behind to become millionaire businessmen in soft tones.

They will be attacked by everything the federals have from the hard hitting 80 - man McClellan committee staff to the civilian agencies such as the Commerce and Agricultural Depts., never before used in the war on the underworld.

Out of McClellan committee national staff conference, for example, comes word that in '59 counselor Robert Kennedy's emphasis will be on the syndicated criminals who have invaded businesses and unions, rather than on those labor chiefs who use union money as though it were stock privately printed for them.

The grubby fingered crowd is being bypassed for the manicured unsocial set on the theory that the invading mobsters controlling certain trucking, garment, construction and food companies as well as night spots and restaurants, really run the crooked unions.

SOME OF THEM are powerful men unheard of outside the New York area — men such as Abe Chait who controls garment trucking in five Eastern states and owns or has an interest in at least 18 businesses. They range from racing tables to garment shops making racy clothing.

They are the men whom dedicated Bob Kennedy has saved for the final thrust at Congress and the public. For this is the McClellan committee's last year.

If this season's story stirs no new anti-racket laws, a lot of heartache and some two million dollars will have been wasted despite what Sen. McClellan has disclosed about the gangsters' "economy" and "second government."

Paralleling this panzer drive is the federal force woven together by U.S. Attorney General William Rogers on orders of the White House.

This force has begun moving. Its strategic objective is to encircle the organized corporate mobsters. Important as the labor rackets are, they are about as much a part of the big time crime operation as a ham sandwich at Antoine's.

This fight is on all-crime, which has a take running up to some 10 billion dollars a year. The McClellan committee will show how mob-owned companies freeze out others of fix contracts — getting the "edge" — on wages and costs by controlling unions and terrorizing legitimate businessmen.

THE JUSTICE Dept. has let it be known that for the first time it has set aside up to 20 per cent of its Anti-Trust Division staff to concentrate on mob activity. In the past anti-trust probes have dealt only with vast economic powers. Now this division is spending a fifth of its energy on the smaller fields like garments, laundry and Italian food companies.

Actually the use of the Anti-Trust Division is just small part of the anti-crime operation which is expected to haul in its first big fish comes the spring season.

The Justice Dept., ever since last April 10, has searched out laws you'd hardly expect to be thrown into the crime fight. You'd look for the tax division or the criminal division, but not for the civil division. But the civil section of Justice has lots of power.

It can bring action and levy tough fines for violations of a thousand government codes.

For months, too, the Justice Dept. has been coordinating its work with such other cabinet divisions as the Commerce and Agricultural Depts. These have the power to revoke licenses or levy fines or even initiate criminal indictments with five year jail penalties for violations.

No business can really operate without such licenses and few businesses can operate under strict enforcement of all of these unheard of or forgotten statutes.

This head-on clash between the federal government and the underworld's "invisible government" has started unobserved behind the high paneled doors of Federal Grand Jury rooms. The showdown had to come.

ACTION PLANNED

HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP) — The U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service plans further action against Cristobal Alvarado, 27, a Cuban national taken into custody with a load of arms and bullets destined for Castro rebel forces in his homeland. SUB Bill Readied For House Action

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A bill to legalize simultaneous payment of supplementary unemployment benefits (SUB) and state jobless compensation has been readied for introduction in the legislature.

The bill was drafted by Reps. Thomas J. Barrett and G. D. Tablack, Mahoning County Democrats. Barrett said the bill was designed to overcome objections of the Ohio Supreme Court which recently ruled that unemployed workers could not receive state jobless benefits and sub at the same time.

STRIKE CLOSES PLANT

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — A strike by 56 hourly-rated employees has shut down the Beaver Pipe Tools, Inc., plant here. Pickets of Local 78, International Electrical Workers Union, ringed the plant Tuesday in a wage dispute.

Beauty A LA MODE

By MARY FLITCRAFT

NEW YEAR — NEW LOOK

This is the time when many well-meaning New Year Resolutions are made only to be forgotten in the weeks to come. The idea is to make just one or two and see them through 1959. Why not resolve to give more time to your appearance. Take time for beauty and keep regular appointments at your favorite salon.

Bink Washington scored 16 points or one less than the entire Boardman team as Salem's seventh grade cage squad rolled to a 33-17 win over the Boardman seventh graders Tuesday at Boardman.

The score was 8-8 after one period but Salem led 15-11 at the half. Boardman did not score in the third frame and the young Quakers bolted to a 25-11 margin entering the last quarter.

Dan Franks had nine for Salem while Anderson and Wukotich had three each and Nollier two.

Salem made 11 of 14 fouls and the losers three of three.

Dick Ehrhart tossed in 19 tallies but it wasn't enough as the Salem eighth graders were ripped by the Boardman eighth grade team 39-38 at Boardman yesterday.

Lodge had five for Salem while Capel had four. Schramm had eight and Huffer two.

Boardman led 24-13 at the half and 32-25 after three periods. Salem lost the game at the foul line making but 6 of 13 while the winners hit on 5 of 11.

During 1956, more than 280 million pounds of cottonseed oil went into the production of margarine.

Have your resolutions include an attractive new coif. Let the expert staff of this salon arrange your new "do." It will be a morale booster and add to your appearance as well.

Presbytery Change Is Made; Fruit to Be Assistant Here

Formation of the new Presbytery of Mahoning in the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America was effected at a meeting held Monday in the First Presbyterian Church in Youngstown.

The Rev. Laten Carter, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church here, retiring moderator of the Mahoning Presbytery and the Rev. Charles G. Skuce, retiring moderator of the Presbytery of Cleveland, officiated at the Communion service which began the meeting.

Portions of the two Presbyteries were combined to form the new Presbytery which is composed of the following counties: Ash-tahula, Trumbull, Mahoning and the northern half of Columbiana County, which extends below Lisbon and Clarkson.

Dr. A. W. Wishart, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Warren, was elected moderator of the new Presbytery.

of civilian appointees to replace them was ready, although it was not announced immediately.

The new cabinet was reported preparing a decree abolishing all political parties and taking away the political rights of all candidates in the 1954 and 1958 elections held by Batista. This would bar even the opposition candidates tolerated by Batista from the elections which Urrutia has promised to hold in 18 to 24 months.

One leading politician apparently exempt from the political ban would be former President Carlos Prío Socarras, whom Batista overthrew in a coup in 1952. Prío fled to Miami and did not return until the victory last week of Fidel Castro's rebellion.

Informed sources said other cabinet decrees would freeze the private bank accounts of all Batista officials and stop payment on all checks outstanding against the treasury. It was problematical, however, how much this could recover for the government since the custom for Cubans profiting most from the government has been to bank in the United States or Europe.

Earlier Tuesday Urrutia's cabinet dissolved congress, suspended the criminal courts and announced it would rule by decree until elections are held. Revolutionary courts reportedly will be set up to try Batista, now an exile in the Dominican Republic, and other officials of his regime who may be charged.

on at the Capitol Tuesday, Mikoyan was asked by newsmen whether the Soviet Union had altered its Berlin policy in any way.

"Why change it?" he fired back. "One does not change a good position."

Booked to travel with Mikoyan today were his 29-year-old son, Sergio, Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov, and five aides who arrived with Mikoyan from Moscow Sunday. State Department security agents are assigned to the party for personal protection.

The Mikoyan entourage goes to Detroit Thursday, Chicago on Friday, San Francisco on Saturday, and Los Angeles on Sunday and Monday. It returns East next Tuesday, going first to New York and possibly thereafter to Boston and Philadelphia.

After the conference with Nixon, Mikoyan dodged a direct reply when reporters wanted to know if he had invited Nixon to Moscow. He said instead that he was being well received here and he was sure the same courtesies would be shown American officials who visit Russia.

Young Snubs Lausche On Floor of Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Stephen Young, new Democratic senator from Ohio, today declined to walk down the Senate aisle with his Democratic colleague, Sen. Frank Lausche, despite senatorial custom.

Normally when a new senator is sworn in he is escorted by his colleague.

"I will walk down the aisle to take my solemn oath of office without leaning on the arm, or clasping the hand of my distinguished Ohio colleagues," Young said in a statement.

"If Sen. Lausche supported me for election it was a well-guarded secret," Young said, adding that over the years he had supported Lausche for judge, mayor, governor and senator.

Young's seating today gives Ohio two Democratic senators for the first time since the 30s.

tion for the city's water and sewerage departments.

Council cannot approve any yearly figures until it has received a statement of estimated resources for 1959 from the County Auditor.

Operating expenses for three months total $111,543 which is $16,203 less than the three-month figure appropriated at the beginning of 1958.

Broken down, the appropriation shows: General Fund, $71,239; street construction, $29,775; park maintenance and recreation, $4,979; capital improvement of parks $5,000; and food service, $550.

The water department appropriation is $192,227 and the appropriation for the sewerage department $122,245, both identical to last year.

During the discussion on these three ordinances, Finance Committee Chairman Fred Koenreich said that he fears that the city may have to borrow money to remain solvent until the city receives its first tax monies for 1959.

Council last night voted to vacate two alleys. They are: one starting at the westerly line of Franklin Ave. in the vicinity of Aetna St. running to the rear of the abutting lots; and the first alley west of and parallel to Granite St. which connects Liberty and W. Euclid Streets.

Parks Superintendent Charles Tomlinson reported that as many as 100 persons in a single day have made use of the ice skating facilities at Memorial Park during the 24 days of good skating weather so far this winter.

He announced that the warming shelter would be open from 4 to 10 p.m. on weekdays and from 1 to 10 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

group of civil rights advocates who want a rules change to make it easier to kill off filibusters.

In the last session of Congress, Johnson was one of the sponsors of a resolution that would provide that two-thirds of those voting could end debate. The present rule requires the affirmative votes of 66 senators to accomplish this.

But Johnson's resolution also provided that the Senate recognize it is a continuing body, with rules carried over from year to year.

Those who are fighting to change the rules are challenging this. They also are seeking to make it possible for 50 senators to cut off extended debate. Southern Democrats are opposing any change in the rules.

reasons why

the Daily Newspaper gives you more for your advertising dollar

1. Newspaper advertising reaches more people than any other medium. 88% of the nation's families get a newspaper every day. Over 100 million people, 82% of all people 12 years of age and over, read a newspaper on an average day. Every one of these people has the opportunity to see every ad in the daily newspaper. Only a small number of these people could be reached with any TV, radio or magazine ad.

2. People like advertising in newspapers better than in any other medium. People feel friendly toward advertising in newspapers. Surveys show that far fewer people want advertising in other media. An advertiser wants his customers to like him, so it stands to reason he will benefit if he runs his ads where they please instead of annoy people.

3. Newspapers deliver more "ready to buy" prospects than any other medium. Newspapers offer something for everybody—information, entertainment, editorials, advertising. And the reader is attracted to the ad that interests him. This means that readership ratings on ads represent live prospects for the advertiser. These people are easy to sell because they have a product interest. On the other hand broadcast ratings indicate people with an interest in the program, not necessarily a buying interest in the product.

4. Newspaper advertising gets more action than any other medium. As a news medium, the daily newspaper gives advertising an atmosphere of action and believability. People have confidence in and believe in newspapers. This prompts action on the part of the reader.

5. Newspaper advertising offers more local selling flexibility than any other medium. Advertisers can use newspapers market-by-market—to protect strong markets, to bolster weak markets, to vary advertising where potential varies, to meet competitive attacks, to get better timing with their sales and merchandising programs than is possible in any other medium.

6. Newspapers give more flexibility in selling copy than any other medium. An advertiser can tell his story in the size that suits his needs. He can use a two-page spread to tell a detailed copy story, or he can tell his story in the same or smaller space with just a few words. He can run a 100-line or a 1,000-line ad, depending on his budget and strategy. A newspaper offers advertisers more physical and creative flexibility than any other medium.

7. Newspaper advertising offers better retail merchandising than any other advertising. Four million U. S. retailers invest about 2½ billion dollars in the daily newspaper—more than they spend in all other media combined. No other medium has as close a relationship with retailers as the daily newspaper.

8. Newspaper advertising is a safer and surer investment than advertising in any other medium. In some media a good percentage of the results are affected by the variables of the medium, and by the medium's own competition. In newspapers, the advertising stands on its own feet, unaffected by such variables. Newspaper advertising is always ready and waiting to suit the time, place and pleasure of the consumer. The daily newspaper is always selling.

9. Newspaper advertising produces more sales per dollar of advertising cost than do other media. The cost of an advertising medium depends on a combination of two things: First, how much it costs to reach a person with a sales story. Second, what action that sales story causes the person to take—or, how much it costs to make a sale. The best figures available indicate that the newspaper delivers a message to a person for a typical advertiser at a cost at least as low as the cost of delivering the message through television or magazines. And the other eight points guarantee more sales action per message delivered.

Goshen Union Outclasses Jackson-Milton by 62-40

Gophers Avenge December Upset

Daugherty, Barnett
Top Goshen Scorers

By HARRY SAVAGE

Goshen Union played top-notch basketball every other quarter to drub an out-manned Jackson-Milton team 62-40 Tuesday night at the Goshen gym. The Gophers scored 43 of their 62 points in the second and fourth periods.

By winning, coach Joe Tucker's quintet avenged their only loss of the 1958-59 season. The Bluejays upset Goshen 48-43 Dec. 2 at Jackson. Since then the Gophers have rolled to seven straight wins. Jackson-Milton's record stands at four victories and five defeats.

With high-scoring George Wallace tied up by the Jackson defenders, Goshen had to leave the point-making to Ed Daugherty and Lynn Barnett. This duo consistently out-rebounded the taller Bluejays and scored 17 points apiece to lead the Gophers. Jim Reeves tossed in 14 points for the losers.

JACKSON TOOK an early lead in the contest as Reeves hit a jump shot and Dick Trehanne counted on a charity toss to make the score 3-0. The Gophers were scoreless for the first two minutes and ten seconds of the game.

Chuck Brown broke the ice for Goshen with a one-hander from the top of the key. Barnett and Daugherty caught fire, but 6-4 Barry Callen kept the Bluejays in the ballgame with his short jump shots. The quarter ended with the score Goshen 13, Jackson 10.

Throughout the game, Goshen Union used Wallace as a trailer. The husky forward would wait until Daugherty or Barnett would break across the pivot and then follow on their heels.

The purpose of the maneuver is to have the defender follow the pivotman, leaving the trailer free for an unmolested shot.

Jackson, however, preferred to guard Wallace, leaving the pivotman free to short jump shots and hooks. Daugherty and Barnett tossed in 14 field goals between them, while Wallace managed to hit only one shot from the field.

Callen hit a short jump shot at the start of the second quarter to bring Jackson up to a one-point, 13-12 deficit. Jeff Roberts tallied a two-pointer to push the Gophers' lead back to three, but consecutive buckets by Mac Hoefler and Reeves gave the Bluejays a 16-15 lead. This was the last time coach Dan Altemese's boys had the advantage.

DAUGHERTY HIT two straight free throws and Goshen had the lead back. The Gophers started to roll, with Daugherty rebounding and Wallace showing some pin-point passing, Goshen Union racked up 11 straight points.

The last bucket in this streak was scored on a fantastic fade-away tip-in by Barnett. The 6-1 forward cut across the center and tapped the ball in from about six feet away to give Goshen a 27-16 lead.

Jackson once more found the range, but Goshen kept hitting as the half ended with the score Goshen 33, Jackson 10.

Starting the second half, Jackson began to watch Daugherty and Barnett a little closer. The Gophers seemed to have trouble solving the altered Bluejays' defense and buckets were hard to come by in the third stanza.

Trehanne and Reeves led the Bluejay attack in the third period, but Daugherty's rebounding kept the Gophers in the ballgame. A jump shot by Reeves brought the score to 39-31 as the third quarter ended.

IN THE FINAL eight minutes the Gophers made a shambles of Jackson's defense. At one time, Goshen scored 17 straight points. Little Bud Anderson scored all eight of his total points in this stanza. Jackson managed only nine points in the period, while the Gophers scored 23.

With Daugherty and Barnett clearing the backboards, the Goshen fast break moved smoothly. Wallace, Anderson and Brown raced downcourt for easy layups. The dog-tired Bluejays could no longer keep pace with their rivals. With about four minutes to play, coach Tucker cleared his bench and the Gophers had their seventh straight victory in the bag.

In the junior varsity contest Goshen smashed Jackson's reserves 42-18. Larry Shreve led the Gopher attack with 12 points and Ed Gorgie tallied seven to top the Bluejay scorers.

Scarabs Meet Latin Friday

Both Cleveland Squads Unbeaten

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Powerful Cleveland East Tech, riding a 33-game winning streak, clashes with unbeaten Cleveland Cathedral Latin Friday in one of Ohio's most attractive high school basketball games of the season.

Cosch John Broski's Scarabs, the 1958 class AA champs, have polished off seven straight opponents this year with comparative ease.

Only Salem came close to being a spoiler, leading East Tech for three periods before the Scarabs rallied in the final quarter to win, 68-59.

Broski has four starters back from last year's squad which topped Columbus North for the title. They are 6-6 Ken Glenn; Ed Ferguson, 6-8; 6-3 Lamoyne Porter and 6-2 Jim Stone, an All-Ohio guard.

Broski has been using three boys to replace Gerald Warfield, who graduated. He rotates 6-8 Gene Lane, 6-0 Hank Sellers and 5-9 Sam Franklin, the latter pair when he needs outside shooting.

Two tall youths have paced Cathedral Latin to seven straight wins. They are 6-7 Al Payne, averaging nearly 20 points a game, and 6-6 Dave Prevorsnik.

Latin will have the home floor advantage Friday but will have to improve its outside shooting to upset East Tech.

From here and there:

Wellsilles Dan Baldwin, a 6-2 forward, is breezing along at a 25.1 per game clip with 151 points in six contests. A fine jump shot, he's hit 31 twice this year.

One of the most promising sophomores in a long spell at East Liverpool is Ken Cunningham, a 5-10 forward. Cunningham scored 34 against Mansfield, a new record for an East Liverpool player in the school's Memorial Auditorium.

Elyria, with seven lettermen back from last year's team, has chalked up 10 straight wins without a setback and looks like one of the North's better quintets. Bill Mrukowski, a 6-3 All-Ohio griddler has paced the Pioneers' attack.

Alliance is building for the future. The Aviators have 10 soph on the squad 6 feet tall and over.

Some of the top performers in the northeastern part of the state include 6-7 Ronald Sabo of Youngstown Chaney, Poland's Tony Archibald and Massillon's Paul Gerber. Massillon won six in a row before dropping a 54-53 squeaker to Canton McKinley on Floyd McLlwin's basket in the final two seconds. Canton has looked good, losing only to Farrell, Pa.

Scouts from as far away as Georgia have been talking to Denny Pawlecki, one of Central Catholic's top players, who has been scoring 22 a game.

Medium sized Emil Hartman is Ohio Deaf's big gun. He's tallied 232 of the Franklin County school's 410 points in seven games. Columbus Rosary and Bexley are Franklin County's only unbeaten quintets.

Frank Christie, Marietta's 6-2 junior ace, fired home 46 points in the season opener against Parkersburg, W. Va. Catholic to set an all-time school mark.

Springfield Public, although beaten four times, has whipped two previously unbeaten teams. The Wildcats snapped winning skeins for Tecumseh and Lima.

Proud Middletown, minus the fabulous Jerry Lucas, already has been victimized by Columbus East and Dayton Roosevelt. The Mid-dies lost only once in the last three years, running up a 76 - game streak in the process.

Boyd Is Favored Over Holly Mims

CHICAGO (AP) — Bobby Boyd, trying to regain the form that made him the No. 1 middleweight contender in 1956, is a 7-5 choice tonight against veteran Holly Mims.

The 10-rounder in Chicago Stadium will be televised and scored under the five-point must system.

Boyd, a lanky 25-year-old Chicagoan who licked the top of the middleweight crop then skidded out of the rankings, counter-punched his way to victory over the crafty Mims in Chicago Stadium in 1956. Mims, 30, battled him to a draw in Miami Beach a year ago.

The Washington, D.C., battler went on in 1958 to score a surprising upset of highly-rated Spi-

The odds favoring Boyd are based on his renewed desire, an ingredient that evidently had been lacking at times in his unpredictable ring ventures. Boyd's defensive lapses have cost him six defeats by knockouts. But he has nailed 23 opponents in winning 51 bouts. He has dropped six decisions and fought to three draws.

O'Neill To Get Measure Today

DiSalle Cohorts Ram Through Bill To Grant Cabinet Salary Increases

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Democratic Gov.-elect Michael V. DiSalle's cohorts have jammed through the new legislature an emergency bill to raise the salaries of all but two members of his cabinet.

Present plans call for the history-repeats-itself bill to be laid today on the desk of outgoing Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill for his signature. He has declined to say whether he will sign it.

Unless the bill is signed before the new cabinet officials take office, they will not be able to collect the higher salaries. The hold-over cabinet officers who are serving definite terms set by law will not receive the increases.

The big battle over the increases came in a two-hour debate late Tuesday in the Senate. The Senate Republicans, on the outside looking in for the first time in 10 years, were as full of needles as a porcupine.

Most of the needling was in the form of amendments to the bill. What made even the Democrats laugh while they squirmed in discomfort was the fact that most of the amendments were nearly identical to the ones they offered futilely two years ago. The amendments then were to the salary increase bill requested by the then Gov.-elect O'Neill.

The Republicans managed to accomplish something this time that the Democrats couldn't swing in 1957. They got one of their amendments adopted. They did it by raising a question of constitutionality.

Sen. Fred L. Hoffman complained to Lt. Gov. Paul M. Herbert, president of the Senate, that the form of the bill did not conform to a provision of the state constitution. Herbert upheld him and ruled, in effect, that the bill was not properly before the Senate. The ruling, if it had stood, would have killed the bill.

But the Democrats appealed from Herbert's ruling and on a 20-13 party-line vote upset it. But then they promptly supported an amendment to strike the offending sentence from the bill.

The bill went back to the House in a night session and the amendment was accepted by a 96-26 vote—only three more than the two-thirds vote needed.

House Majority Leader Jesse Yoder (D-Montgomery) assured the House a new bill will be introduced next week in an attempt to give a separate pay increase to the insurance superintendent.

The whole hassle stemmed from the fact that the authors had neglected to change another section of law which sets the salary of the insurance superintendent. After the amendment was adopted, four Republicans joined the Senate's 20 Democrats to pass the bill as an emergency measure. Twenty-two votes were needed for passage. Republicans who voted for it are Sens. Tom V. Moorehead of Zanesville, Charles A. Mosher of Oberlin, Gordon Renner of Cincinnati and Robert R. Shaw of Columbus.

The bill went back to the House in a night session and the amendment was accepted by a 96-26 vote—only three more than the two-thirds vote needed.

The only salary cut by the new bill is that of highway director. O'Neill's salary bill of two years ago set the salary at $30,000—$5,000 more than the governor receives—to entice Charles M. Noble of New Jersey to take the job. The DiSalle salary bill cuts the highway director's pay back to $22,500. The bill raises from $10,000 to $14,000 the salaries of the directors of commerce, public works, industrial relations, agriculture and highway safety.

Directors of natural resources, workmen's compensation, unemployment compensation, and liquor control are raised from $12,000 to $14,000.

The director of finance and the tax commissioner go from $12,000 to $15,000. The director of health goes from $12,000 to $18,000 and the director of mental hygiene and correction from $18,000 to $22,500.

Senate Majority Leader Frank W. King of Toledo assured the Senate DiSalle has no intention of changing his mind later about the increases. Some weeks after O'Neill asked and got whopping pay raises for his cabinet members in 1957, he asked the legislature to cut them all back again—except for the highway director.

County Commissioners Set Meeting Days

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners have set Monday and Thursday as their regular meeting days in the Courthouse, R. Max Gard, president, announced.

Gard said Thursday was selected to afford a better distribution of work. Under the old schedule of meeting Fridays and Mondays the commissioners were swamped with work Fridays and had little to do Mondays, he said.

The meetings will begin at 10 a.m. and conclude at 4 p.m., Gard said.

CHARGED WITH MURDER

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — James Rose, 19, father of a three-month-old son, has been charged with first-degree murder in the slaying of his wife, Linda, 18 last Sunday. Police said he admitted shooting his wife with a Christmas present she gave him—a .22 caliber pistol—because he "didn't want to be tied down." He claimed at first the shooting was accidental.

GOP Under New Leadership Arouses Much Speculation

WASHINGTON (AP) — A badly split Republican minority under new leadership hung a big question mark over the course of the new House of Representatives convening today.

The surprise ouster of Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts from his 20-year-reign as GOP floor leader and his replacement by Charles A. Halleck of Indiana posed some interesting possibilities.

Main subject of speculation was the possible effect Martin's replacement would have on the coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats that has effectively charted the course of legislation in recent years.

Halleck generally has been recognized as the principal go-between that kept the coalition powerful. His elevation to his party's leadership could strengthen the bonds of the coalition that has blocked passage of much legislation generally described as progressive or liberal.

On the other hand, Halleck's political ambitions could leave the coalition without an effective link with the Republican minority.

Halleck avowedly has one determination in mind for the coming two years of the 86th Congress: To see that we run a good Republican record in this Congress." But privately, his friends and some of his enemies say, Halleck wants the 1960 GOP vice presidential nomination on a ticket headed by either Vice President Richard M. Nixon or Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York. He could hardly expect it, they add, if he adheres to and encourages the conservative program of the coalition. Halleck's election hardly could be called the result of a rebellion by liberals. He was nominated by Noah Mason of Illinois and was openly supported by John Taber of New York, two of the most conservative members of the House. Martin said White House aides, but not the President himself, had "a little bit to do" with his defeat.

Halleck said he was "absolutely certain that the White House did not intervene."

Eisenhower congratulated Halleck and thanked Martin for his long service. Asked whether Eisenhower took sides in the election, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the choice of leaders was "a matter for the House."
